CAMPAIGN INTEREST WAXES IN VIRGINIA

Candidates for Governor Speak—Other Political and Municipal News.

Special Dispatch to The Star.
RICHMOND, Va., April 2.—During the week this city has witnessed the presence of men from every section of the state to attend the conference with the budget commission and to appear before the committee engaged in redistricting the state for members of the legislature. Many of these visitors did not hesitate to discuss the gubernatorial campaign, and while there is a lack of interest in many sections of the state, the majority of the counties and cities report that there is growing interest. That the sentiment is growing for Senator Trinkle is admitted generally, and while there are supporters of Mr. Tucker who declare their belief in his success in the primary, the preponderance of expression favors Senator Trinkle to win. These estimates say that he will carry certainly six of the ten districts, with excellent chances for the seventh.

The two candidates met at Houston, Halifax county, Monday and made speeches from the same platform and largely to the same crowd. There was a very large attendance of farmers from every part of the county, and while the county has been claimed by both, a club was organized there in behalf of Mr. Trinkle, and the membership said to have been enrolled was 600, and steps were taken to organize each of the precincts forthwith. Senator Trinkle spoke for about an hour, Mr. Tucker following in an address of fifteen minutes.

See Representative Slempp.
Representative Slempp of the Ninth district, member of the national republican committee, was in Richmond this week on private business. He transacted his business and then had time enough left to meet a few of his political friends for a chat regarding the new administration. The republicans are awaiting the declaration of policy regarding the filling of many places, and they are engaged in getting together. Mr. Slempp has the call in the matter of recommendations, whenever they are called for, and the friends who met him here and talked and lunched with him are on the committee, which will do the recommending. One of the best known members of the party said there were half a dozen men seeking every place to be filled, and that choice would be based on efficiency, regularity and loyalty.

Baker Heirs Organize.
A meeting of the heirs of Jacob Baker, late of Philadelphia, has been held here and officers elected to prosecute the claims for a large tract of land which is now worth about $100,000,000, said to be near the heart of the city of Philadelphia. The allegations are that Jacob Baker went from this state many years ago, that he acquired a tract of land then near the city of Philadelphia, and that shortly before his death leased the property for ninety-nine years. Heirs of Jacob Baker in this city then began an agitation of the matter. Local lawyers are investigating the case, and the belief is that a suit will be begun to recover the property and to distribute it among the heirs.

Women for Legislature.
Miss U. Belle Perkins and Mrs. James W. Durham of this city are already in the race for the legislature, being candidates in the democratic primary to be held in August, when all the state officers are to be named. Miss Perkins is returning from England, where she has been visiting Lady Astor, a relative. The women are being indorsed in a hearty way, and the organization of women is seeking to have the women of the city pay their poll taxes, there are to register that they may vote in the primary.

Invite the President.
Acacia Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has appointed a committee to go to Washington and extend an invitation to President Harding to come here in June, following the spring reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons, the Shrine to have a ceremonial session the day following the close of the reunion. At this time there will be a class of perhaps 250 men for the degrees of the Shrine. Postmaster General Hays will be here one week from today, when the formal dedication of the new Scottish Rite Temple will take place. The new temple is one of the show places of the city.

Redistricting Troublesome.
The committee which is trying to solve the matter of redistricting the state for members of the general assembly is having trouble, and the trouble is increasing. To begin with there is objection to having the county of Warren placed in the senatorial district with Winchester. Republican county objects to being associated with Rockingham, which has a habit of electing a republican at intervals. There was objection to having Amherst and Nelson counties combined with Appomattox and Buckingham, as the change would give the first two counties entire domination of the district. The fact is that all of the objections were made by democrats, not a republican appearing to suggest a change. One of the plans suggested would result in the county of General Hays being senators, with Franklin county added to give the population.

Opposition to Bonds.
While the state stands for and needs good roads, and the people last year voted to amend the constitution so as to allow the state to issue bonds for highway purposes, there appears to be growing opposition to the scheme on the ground that the issuance of bonds means an increase in taxation, and the people are already protesting against the increase of last year and the increase in property valuations.

Shopmen Resume Work.
Chesapeake and Ohio shopmen, who have been out for two weeks, returned to duty today about 600 strong. The men were displaced in three shifts, according to service in the city of Richmond, having been here and reducing the number of idle men. Building has suddenly taken a boom in Richmond, and there is more construction now than for a year.

Under the constitution of the new German government females over twenty have the same voting privileges as men.
